A special to the Augusta Chronicle from Beaufort, S. C., says: Over 390 dead bodies have been found on the Islands about Beaufort and Port Royal. Over $2,000,000 of property has been wrecked near the same points. Both are the direct result of severe storms which swept ying around Port Royal and Beaufort is nourning. On every door knob there is a bunch of crepe and upon every hillside there are fresh made graves.

The beaches, the undergrowth trees and shrubbery, the marshes and the inlets are revealing dead bodies every time an investition at all. It takes the discovery of at least half a dozen or more to induce them to show any feelings whatever.

It is around Beaufort and Port Royal that the death rate was the greatest, but in neither of the towns were many lives lost.

Port Royal, lying on a tongue of land down the Beaufort river, is practically in ruins. Its water front is destroyed and great damage has been done to its buildings. The great loss of life which resulted from the storm on every shore of the islands is greatest there. Thirty odd negroes were found dead on the beach and the number was expected to be largely increased before the death roil was finally closed.

Several gentlemen from Charleston, who so frequent are these discoveries that the

the death roll was finally closed.

Several gentlemen from Charleston, who were in Port Royal or Beaufort during the hurricane, returned to Charleston Wednesday on the first train which came into the city over the Charleston and Savannah railway. They report that the loss of life and the destruction of property at those places and the neighboring Sea Islands have been fearful. The death roll has already risen to thirty odd persons, among whom was Dr. the port.

docks are building, and which stands be-tween the Broad and the Beaufort rivers, culmination on Sunday night. The injury could not be accurately calculated.

Beaufort, the prettiest island town in the Carolinas, is terribly damaged, notwithstanding the fact that it stants six miles up the river. Many of the residences in the town were badly damaged, and the wharves
